About CARF

CARF is an independent, nonprofit accreditor of health and human services, enhancing the lives of persons served worldwide.

The accreditation process applies CARF's internationally recognized standards during a site survey conducted by peer surveyors. Accreditation, however, is an ongoing process that distinguishes a provider's service delivery and signals to the public that the provider is committed to continuous performance improvement, responsive to feedback, and accountable to the community and its other stakeholders.

CARF accreditation promotes providers' demonstration of value and Quality Across the Lifespan® of millions of persons served through application of rigorous organizational and program standards organized around the ASPIRE to Excellence® continuous quality improvement framework. CARF accreditation has been the recognized benchmark of quality health and human services for more than 50 years.

Accreditation Decision

On balance, Advocacy Links, LLC demonstrated substantial conformance to the standards. Advocacy Links provides high-fidelity wraparound services to youth ages six to 17. In 2022, the organization was forced to shift the focus of its services, and in 2025 narrowed its efforts to the provision of mental health wraparound services for children and adolescents. The organization and its leadership team demonstrated resiliency, dedication, and perseverance during the transition, maintaining the reputation Advocacy Links earned while providing the previous services. Youth served and their families expressed overall satisfaction with Advocacy Links and its services. Employees reported feeling supported and empowered in their roles as facilitators. While the organization demonstrates significant strengths, there is an opportunity for improvement in risk management.

Advocacy Links, LLC appears likely to maintain and/or improve its current method of operation and demonstrates a commitment to ongoing quality improvement. Advocacy Links, LLC is required to submit a post-survey Quality Improvement Plan (QIP) to CARF that addresses all recommendations identified in this report.

Advocacy Links, LLC has earned a Three-Year Accreditation. The leadership team and staff are complimented and congratulated for this achievement. In order to maintain this accreditation, throughout the term of accreditation, the organization is required to:

- Submit annual reporting documents and other required information to CARF, as detailed in the Accreditation Policies and Procedures section in the standards manual.
- Maintain ongoing conformance to CARF's standards, satisfy all accreditation conditions, and comply with all accreditation policies and procedures, as they are published and made effective by CARF.

The accreditation decision and survey findings contained in this report are based on an on-balance consideration of the information obtained by the surveyor(s) during the site survey. Any information that was unavailable, not presented, or outside the scope of the survey was not considered and, had it been considered, may have affected the contents of this report. If at any time CARF subsequently learns or has reason to believe that the organization did not participate in the accreditation process in good faith or that any information presented was not accurate, truthful, or complete, CARF may modify the accreditation decision, up to and including revocation of accreditation.

Survey Findings

This report provides a summary of the organization's strengths and identifies the sections of the CARF standards that were applied on the survey and the findings in each area. In conjunction with its evaluation of conformance to the specific program/service standards, CARF assessed conformance to its business practice standards, referred to as Section 1. ASPIRE to Excellence, which are designed to support the delivery of the program(s)/service(s) within a sound business operating framework to promote long-term success.

The specific standards applied from each section vary based on a variety of factors, including, but not limited to, the scope(s) of the program(s)/service(s), population(s) served, location(s), methods of service delivery, and survey type. Information about the specific standards applied on each survey is included in the standards manual and other instructions that may be provided by CARF.

Areas of Strength

CARF found that Advocacy Links, LLC demonstrated the following strengths:

- Advocacy Links is applauded for recognizing a significant need among people with disabilities seeking compatible roommates and responding by developing an innovative tool and online portal to connect individuals with similar housing needs. The organization is further recognized for its commitment to sustaining this resource, even as it was required to transition its primary service focus from serving individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities to serving youth with high-fidelity wraparound services. Its continued efforts demonstrate responsiveness to community needs, innovation, and a strong commitment to supporting people with disabilities beyond the organization's current service scope.
- The organization is recognized for creating a collaborative remote work environment by having staff members work together virtually throughout the day, similar to an in-office team. This approach strengthens teamwork, communication, and support during challenging situations.
- Members of the leadership team have provided continuity from the founding of Advocacy Links through the development of its programs, while also remaining a consistent source of support for families and communities during periods of uncertainty and significant organizational transition.

- Families and youth noted that the wraparound services offer a great program for families and children. Children and youth noted that they are being listened to and heard. One child/youth expressed that the best part of wraparound services was meeting their goals.
- Staff members reported open and strong communication with the leadership and coworkers. They described themselves as a close-knit group and appreciate the focus on group problem-solving to address challenging situations.
- Families, children, and youth served reported great satisfaction with the wraparound services coordinated by the facilitators. Team meetings were reported to be productive with a consistency of care. Identified needs are consistently being met. Wraproud facilitators were described as "supportive," "a safe support person," and "good communicators."
- The release-of-information and handbook acknowledgement forms contain useful information and allow communication to be conducted at the discretion of the primary contact via phone, text, or email. Forms and documents are available in multiple languages.

Opportunities for Quality Improvement

The CARF survey process identifies opportunities for continuous improvement, a core concept of "aspiring to excellence." This section of the report lists the sections of the CARF standards that were applied on the survey, including a description of the business practice area and/or the specific program(s)/service(s) surveyed and a summary of the key areas addressed in that section of the standards.

In this section of the report, a recommendation identifies any standard for which CARF determined that the organization did not meet the minimum requirements to demonstrate full conformance. All recommendations must be addressed in a QIP submitted to CARF.

In addition, consultation may be provided for areas of or specific standards where the surveyor(s) documented suggestions that the organization may consider to improve its business or service delivery practices. Note that consultation may be offered for areas of specific standards that do not have any recommendations. Such consultation does not indicate nonconformance to the standards; it is intended to offer ideas that the organization might find helpful in its ongoing quality improvement efforts. The organization is not required to address consultation.

When CARF surveyors visit an organization, their role is that of independent peer reviewers, and their goal is not only to gather and assess information to determine conformance to the standards, but also to engage in relevant and meaningful consultative dialogue. Not all consultation or suggestions discussed during the survey are noted in this report. The organization is encouraged to review any notes made during the survey and consider the consultation or suggestions that were discussed.

During the process of preparing for a CARF accreditation survey, an organization may conduct a detailed self-assessment and engage in deliberations and discussions within the organization as well as with external stakeholders as it considers ways to implement and use the standards to guide its quality improvement efforts. The organization is encouraged to review these discussions and deliberations as it considers ways to implement innovative changes and further advance its business and service delivery practices.
